FACULTY POSITION – Petroleum Engineering MISSISSIPPI STATE UNIVERSITY

The Dave C. Swalm School of Chemical Engineering at Mississippi State University is seeking individuals to fill one (1) tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant/Associate/Professor of Petroleum Engineering with the appointment to begin August 16, 2017. The School is especially interested in candidates with proven expertise in Reservoir Engineering, Reservoir Simulation, and/or Production Engineering.

Applicants for the tenure-track position must have a B.S. in Petroleum Engineering and a Ph.D. degree in Petroleum Engineering or related field. The successful tenure-track candidate will develop an externally funded research program and demonstrate excellence in teaching. Specific activities include teaching, research, service, and advising students in the Petroleum Engineering program.

The Dave C. Swalm School of Chemical Engineering is housed in a state-of-the-art building dedicated to Chemical and Petroleum Engineering. The School currently enrolls over 550 undergraduate and graduate students. More information about the Dave C. Swalm School of Chemical Engineering can be found at www.che.msstate.edu. Mississippi State University is located in Starkville, Mississippi, a vibrant college town located in Northeast Mississippi (visit.starkville.org).

Applicants should apply via the MSU employment website (www.msujobs.msstate.edu) and include a detailed vita, a statement of research (tenure-track applicants only) and teaching interests, and the names and addresses of three references. Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2016, and continue until the position is filled. ABD may apply.
